HOW TO DETERMINE IF A FINANCIAL ADVOCATE IS RIGHT FOR YOU

Regardless of health status, many people need assistance with managing money as they get older. Here's how to develop a financial plan and choose a financial advocate.

What is a financial advocate? A financial advocate is someone you choose to manage money matters, including paying bills, managing property, and handling taxes. A financial advocate may be your spouse, adult child, close friend, or paid professional. It's important to choose someone trustworthy, as they will have a say over your finances. You should have an advocate who understands what matters to you and who will step in if necessary.

Steps to financial advocacy

The sooner you can plan for the future, the better. A popular age to come up with a financial advocacy plan is around age 65, but don't worry if you're past that age. No matter where you are in the planning process, here are a few steps to implementing a financial advocacy plan.

1. PICK A TRUSTED FINANCIAL ADVOCATE

When choosing the right advocate, look for someone who is trustworthy, understands your financial needs, and is reliable. In addition, you need someone who is a smart decision maker, has good communication skills, and is a good listener. Above all, you need someone who will put your needs first. You might have heard scary stories of financial advocates taking advantage of the people they help. Be sure to avoid choosing someone dishonest or secretive, likes to gamble or owes money, and is unable to pay bills on time.

2. ORGANIZE FINANCIAL INFORMATION

When you decide on who will manage your money, it's time to organize and clean up your financial information. Your financial advocate will need to know your sources of income, debt, and other money needs.

3. SET EXPECTATIONS WITH FINANCIAL ADVOCATE

Now that you've mapped out your finances, it's time to start a conversation with your advocate and explain what you're needing from them. In addition, this is a good opportunity for the advocate to ask questions and see if they agree to playing the role you need. Whether it's during a long drive, after a meal, or during a phone call, it's best to start the conversation when you're alone with your advocate and have the time to talk.

4. EXPLAIN MONEY MANAGEMENT NEEDS

When your financial advocate agrees to manage your money, it's time to be specific with where your financial information is located and how to access it, and specific requests for how you want your money handled. Your advocate will have a better idea on how to make financial decisions if they understand what is important to you.

5. OFFICIALLY APPOINT ADVOCATE UNDER POWER OF ATTORNEY

Before your financial advocate can act on your behalf, they need the legal authority to do so. This happens when they become a financial Power of Attorney (POA). A financial power of attorney is a legal document giving someone else the right to make decisions for you about your money and property.

6. MOVE MONEY MANAGEMENT TO ADVOCATE

Now that you've collected all your information and appointed a financial advocate who is now your POA, when is it time for them to manage your money? Everyone ages at a different pace, so it can be difficult to know when the time is right. Consider working with your advocate to develop a "warning system" for signs it's time. Discuss this plan with your doctor and trusted family, who can alert you if they notice signs it's time to get your financial advocate to help.

Spend the day at the “Disneyland of Quilting.” Hamilton, Missouri is a quilter’s paradise. Come find inspiration, encouragement, and education at Missouri Star Quilt Company. Missouri Star has grown from a single brick building with a longarm quilting machine and a few shelves of fabric to 12 themed quilt shops, a sewing center for retreats and an education center for quilting and sewing classes right in town. The main shop is a hub for all Missouri Star activities, with something for everyone. Enjoy a catered boxed lunch break before you head back to shopping this afternoon. And spend some time in the Missouri Quilt Museum where you see antique sewing machine, vintage buttons, antique toy sewing machines, thimbles, and lots of other sewing memorabilia. This tour is $126 per person. 🍷

Greenville & Highland, IL OCTOBER 19, 2023

Linda Koenig Tour • Departs at 6:15 a.m.

Today the Greenville, IL, DeMoulin Company’s primary business is the production of band uniforms, but that’s a far cry from what they used to do. Back in the late 1880’s they made the most curious, bizarre, and hilarious devices for fraternal organizations and lodge initiations. Visit the DeMoulin Museum and have collector John Goldsmith demonstrate some of these most peculiar and funny devices. Then you pay a visit to the now-famous Marcoot Creamery to learn all about how cheese is made: from its beginning milks stage, to curds and whey, to a finished wheel. There will be plenty of delicious cheese to sample and purchase. Later, enjoy a delicious buffet dinner, with all the trimmings and desserts, at the long-established Farmhouse Restaurant. This afternoon you visit the beautiful Latzer Homestead in the hills outside Highland. Louis Latzer developed the Helvetia(Pet) Milk Company in 1885. The success of the company enabled Mr. Latzer to build this large comfortable home for his seven children. That house has one of the first telephones in the community and was one of the first houses with running water. Join this all-inclusive day is $154 per person. 🍷

Holiday Homes NOVEMBER 29, 2023

Linda Koenig Tour • Departs 7 a.m.

In Webster Groves, you visit the historic Hawken House. Built in 1857 with slave labor, this federal style home was the first home in Missouri to receive federal funds for restoration. Then you tour the exquisite, holiday-decorated, Sappington House. Built in 1808 by Thomas Sappington for his bride, this Crestwood home was erected by slaves, with bricks made on site. Explore the Americana Library before enjoying lunch at the adjoining Sappington Barn. Spend the afternoon at Walter Knoll’s Wholesale Florist on Floral Row to observe the floral designers at work. The greenhouses will be full of beautiful poinsettias, Christmas Cactus, and other holiday plants for you to purchase for decoration or gifts. Wrap up the day with some shopping along two blocks of Route 66 in Maplewood. Join this all-inclusive day is $124 per person. 🍷

Enjoy a BBQ lunch and learn the basics of estate planning!

What is an estate plan? | Why should I create one? | What documents should be included? Call 573-874-8548 to reserve your spot. Limited to 30 spots.

Estate planning may be challenging, but it can make a big difference to the loved ones you leave behind. At Central Trust Company, we help people navigate the planning process. Below are some common questions we receive from clients. We'll cover these topics and more during our Wills, Trusts & BBQ event in August.

What is an estate plan?

An estate plan is like a roadmap. It directs how you want your personal and financial affairs handled in case of your incapacity or death. People create estate plans for several reasons, including providing support or financial stability to loved ones, minimizing taxes, avoiding problems with loved ones, protecting privacy, preserving wealth and ensuring a person's wishes are carried out.

I have a will. Why do I need a trust?

A will does not avoid probate. Probate is a costly, time-consuming, and public court process for administering a will. The process includes assembling assets, notifying creditors, paying taxes, and distributing bequests. To avoid probate, some people choose to create revocable living trusts during their lifetime. Transferring assets to a trust ensures your assets are managed if you become incapacitated and avoids probate on death.

My family members get along. Why do I need an estate plan?

Planning ahead and clearly indicating your wishes alleviates any potential conflict within your family. They can spend time remembering your life and legacy rather than finding and completing paperwork, filing court documents and trying to determine how you would have wanted everything handled.

What are the components of an estate plan?

- | Last will and testament – Lists property and which people or charities should receive each asset. Names an executor to carry out the terms of your will.
- | Revocable living trust – Controls assets while you're living and distributes them to beneficiaries after death.
- | Beneficiary designations – Avoid probate by naming beneficiaries for your 401(k), IRAs, pensions and life insurance.
- | Healthcare power of attorney/Healthcare directives – Outlines your medical care preferences and names a healthcare agent to make important medical decisions for you.
- | Financial power of attorney – Names a financial agent to make important decisions for you while you're living.
- | Insurance policies/financial information – Gather copies of all insurance policies (e.g. auto, home, health) and bank accounts (e.g. checking account, credit cards, loans).
- | Important documents – Gather your Social Security card, birth, marriage and divorce certificates.
- | Titles and property deeds – Keep record of your titles and deeds for your homes, vehicles and real estate. Be sure to confirm the owners are correct.
- | Digital logins/passwords – Create a list of all digital assets, including logins for your financial accounts, social media, streaming services and photos.
- | Funeral instructions – Provide your preferences for a funeral service and burial.

Colorado Rail Adventure

July 29 - Aug 5, 2024

All aboard for the time of your life!

A flight takes you to Denver, Colorado, to begin your adventure. You make your way to former gold rush town, Golden, located at the foothills of the Rocky Mountains for a one-night stay and a welcome dinner with your fellow travelers.

Travel back in time the next morning as you climb aboard the narrow-gauge Georgetown Loop Railroad, considered an engineering marvel for its time. This scenic journey filled with mountain views, rushing streams and towering trees takes you to the charming town of Palisade. There, you check into the boutique-style Wine Country Inn for two nights and have time to enjoy the inn's complementary tasting before a "Taste of Palisade" dinner.

Your next day begins with a visit to the Colorado National Monument, where some of its oldest rock formations date back 1.5 billion years. A guided driving tour takes you through Rim Rock Drive and its sheer-walled, red rock canyons. Your afternoon is free to relax or join an optional tour such as a wine tour or river float on the Colorado. Later that evening, you are in for a treat as the beauty of the local orchard is the stage for your Orchard Dinner.

Then you travel to the southwestern corner of Colorado via the Million Dollar

Highway, one of the most beautiful roads in Colorado. Upon arrival at the historic mining town of Silverton, you have free time to explore an abundance of historic buildings, shops and enjoy lunch on your own. Then it's all aboard the Durango & Silverton Scenic Railroad, as your vintage locomotive navigates the same tracks that miners, cowboys, and settlers of the Old West took over a century ago. After your journey you check into the Springhill Suites in Durango for two nights.

Travel through steep mountain canyons, high desert, and lush meadows as you zig zag between the Colorado and New Mexico border.

After a great night's sleep, you travel to the incredible Mesa Verde National Park, established in 1906 to preserve the archeological heritage of the Pueblo people. It protects nearly 5,000 known archeological sites including 600 cliff dwellings ranging in size from one room to villages of more than 150 rooms. You then return to Durango and stop back into the Old West for an entertaining evening at the Bar D Chuckwagon Supper.

The next morning another train adventure begins on the Cumbres & Toltec Scenic Railroad with a 64-mile journey via coal-fired, steam engines. That night you stay in Alamosa with free time for dinner on your own.

The beautiful Great Sand Dunes National Park and Preserve is on the agenda the next day. The tallest dunes in North America are the centerpiece here in a diverse landscape of grasslands, wetlands, conifers, aspen forest and more. In the afternoon you hit the rails one last time and experience one of America's most spectacular rail journeys aboard the Royal Gorge Route Railroad. Afterward you make your way to Colorado Springs to enjoy dinner before checking into the Hyatt Place Garden of the Gods.

Capping off your trip is a visit to Garden of the Gods the final day. Dramatic 300-foot red sandstone rock formations set against the backdrop of snow-capped Pikes Peak. This eight-day tour includes all air and motorcoach transportation, seven-night stay, 14 meals, admissions, and gratuities all for $4,199 per person double occupancy.
